DANGER IN SEPTEMBER

The Alberta Safety Council says that September is one of the most dangerous months of the year. If the experience this coming September is anything like those of the past, some 15 men engaged in farming will be fatally injured and some 60 will be hurt bad enough to require medical care.

The Safety Council says that most September accidents are due to tractor operations. Refuelling, falling off, tipping and cranking are mainly responsible.

A few simple precautions will prevent accidents. Tractor operation requires the greatest care.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

That the teachings and example of the greatest exponent of Christianity can be made practical today will be expounded Sunday in Christian Science churches. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Christ Jesus," and it will make use of this exhortation by Jesus: "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 5:16). And this affirmation from "Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is possible — yes, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man and woman — to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness." (p. 37).

LET FREEDOM REIGN ! !

Freedom exists naturally in the absence of man-made restrictions. It is like water which will flow along an incline unless barriers are placed in the way.

All that need be done is to let freedom reign.

Personal freedom must come first. Free men do anything better, faster and cheaper when working for their own profit and by their own initiative.

There is nothing that a totalitarian government can force men to do that free men cannot voluntarily accomplish in less time and at less cost.

Our productivity is geared to the processes of free planning, free bargaining, free initiative. Take these away and you ruin the entire system.

If we cannot defend ourselves as free men, we cannot defend ourselves at all.

Free enterprise in a country that is still free — like Canada — can point to the benefits that free enterprise confers, every minute of the day, upon the community.

For Canada there is a great lesson to be learned from what is happening in Britain now. The case for free enterprise, for individual liberty and the just reward for ability has been allowed to go by default during the last quarter of a century.

Britain now supplies the "awful warning" of what socialism in practice can do to the vitality and enterprise of a nation.

WHY TIRE YOURSELF TODAY . . . FOR TOMORROW?

Some folks just sort of never seem to grow old on the job! How do they do it? Well, they keep young by thinking young and acting young in spirit, heart, soul and imagination.

Of course they have a system of doing this and thus achieving happiness. Their real happiness is a sort of altar which they pour on others and just carelessly spill a few drops on themselves. They have a target and that target is to work for the happiness of others.

How do they do just that? They use and cultivate and strengthen their knowledge. They do not just rest on their oars. They burn the midnight oil — they continue to prepare and study and plan. They conserve their energies — they do not waste time, enthusiasm and money on things that aren't worth a passing thought.

Thoroughly prepared — they like people, and try to serve them well. No matter what your job — all you can do is fill human wants. Very well then, that Happy Soul seeks unfulfilled human needs and has the urge to fill them through teamwork — he is an association member. He joins up with the others.

Helping others is a pleasant hobby. If one cannot be smart, one can at least be very, very pleasant and this cannot come without plenty of hard work. So there it is.

POLIO

1. Polio is a communicable disease — so avoid crowds, restrict children to small neighborhood groups.
2. A tired child is more susceptible to the disease and if the disease develops, a greater degree of paralysis is likely to follow.
3. Swimming is dangerous because it will cause fatigue and is chilling.
4. Watch your personal hygiene — be sure to wash your hands before eating and after using the toilet.
5. Where the disease is prevalent avoid removal of tonsils, adenoids and teeth.

Perennial Sow Thistle: Many people are familiar with this weed but others are not. They confuse the sunflower and hawkweed with sow thistle. Following is a description of this weed:

It is a deep footed perennial with large and vigorous running root stocks. Stems are one to five feet high, hollow, simple, with few leaves and branching at the top. The whole plant is filled with bitter, milky juice. Flowers are bright yellow, 1 1/2 inches across.

This weed produces a large amount of seed, which together with its vigorous root system makes it one of our more aggressive weed enemies. Wherever established it will crowd out the crops almost completely. If left undisturbed the seed will ripen before the grain is cut, and they will be carried long distances on the wind.

During the last few years we have observed that 2, 4-D will effectively control it if not eradicate this weed. Even at this time of year when the plants are almost full grown they seem to yield to chemical treatment. Where there are only small patches it would seem worthwhile to walk through the crops with a knapsack sprayer and treat each patch. In cases where we have done this the patch did not show up again in succeeding years.

I cannot overemphasize the wisdom of looking over your fields at this time of year and pinpoint the bad weeds for spot treatment. A stitch in time saves nine.

KEEP EYES AND EARS OPEN!

There is no substitute for keeping our eyes and our ears open and our senses on the alert, but we should also use all the aids provided by producers to give us a basis of judgment. Whether a given purchase is simple or complex, the principle of good shopping is always the same. It lies in getting information about many comparable offerings, with emphasis upon the features that are important to us, so as to have points upon which to base a decision.

Car Insurance Higher?

You may have to pay more for your car insurance next year, according to The Financial Post. And if you have been involved in a couple of accidents, you may have to pay even more.

That's the way Canada's automobile insurance picture is shaping up right now. The picture itself is being painted by the increasing number and cost of accidents. And over a particular year, it is estimated, over 90 percent of insured private passenger cars will have a clear record. The other 10 percent cause the heavy losses. Under the "demerit system" insurance men are studying now, the 10 percent responsible for the accident frequency would have to pay more.

Highway Accidents Climb

Pages of newspapers are peppered more than usually this season with stories of pileups of cars and trucks on highways. The most spectacular such multiple accident happened south of Toronto a few weeks ago, on the Queen Elizabeth Way. In a heavy flow of traffic, a foolish motorist stopped suddenly. The car following on his bumper, plowed into him, and so on down the line. By the time police had unscrambled the mess and started traffic moving normally again a total of approximately $30,000 damage had been caused to a score of vehicles.

This same mishap on a smaller scale occurs every day on Alberta highways. All too often these collisions result in a fatality or serious injury.

Such accidents are attributable directly to human carelessness, the most fruitful cause of all accidents. They could be eliminated were a few simple and fundamental common sense rules to be followed by every driver. The first; never stop suddenly on a highway, and if possible never stop at all on the pavement but pull off to the side before doing so. Because of the narrowness of the shoulders along our paved roads and their lack of gravel it is not always convenient to drive off the pavement before halting. The prevalence of this type of highway mishap suggests that the department of highways could well give more thought to widening the shoulders and graveling them.

Another wise precaution is for every driver to assume that the one ahead may stop suddenly. Tests have established that a car proceeding at 50 miles an hour travels 188 feet on dry pavement after the brakes have been applied before coming to a stop. At this high speed, the vehicle goes 55 feet before a vigilant driver senses the danger and applies the brakes. So, in all, it travels 243 feet from the time the danger is sensed by a wide-awake driver until it has been halted. This distance is reduced considerably at 20 miles per hour, but even then it is 52 feet. Some books on driving hints suggest that there should be at least a car length for every 10 miles of speed between vehicles. While that is a safer procedure than virtually touching the bumpers of the car ahead, even this distance should be stretched somewhat for complete safety.

Something to remember is that the visibility range is sharply reduced at night. The limit for the best of lights is about 150 feet. Since it takes 243 feet to stop a car at 50 miles an hour after danger has been realized, there always is the possibility that at this speed the car cannot be halted at night in time to avoid crashing into a slow moving or stationary object ahead, particularly if the lane for approaching traffic is filled. Hence, a wise motorist drives at a slower speed.

MISS LOUISE BATEMAN
MARRIED AT HOME

The home of the bride's parents was the setting for a quiet evening wedding August 26th, when Louise Anne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bateman, and George Earl, younger son of Mr. and Mrs.
D. N. McDonald, were united in marriage. Rev. C. C. Armstrong officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a ballerina-length white nylon with white accessories. She carried a white prayer book mounted with pink sweetheart roses and white satin streamers tied with rosebuds.

The bride's mother chose a navy nylon dress with white accessories, while the groom's mother was attired in a white and green nylon sheer dress with green accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

A reception followed for the immediate members of the families.
Rev. C. C. Armstrong proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

For travelling the bride changed to a teal blue wool gabardine suit with white and pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.
Following a short honeymoon the couple has taken up residence in the Leuzier Block.

GET THAT COMBINE
READY FOR HARVEST

Your combine has to do some hard slugging in the next few weeks, says Mr. C. A. Cheshire, agricultural engineer for the Alberta repartment of agriculture. Is it ready? Servicing last fall should have put it in top working shape.
However, many of our combines did a season's work this spring, and in the rush of harvesting, seeding and summerfallowing all at one time, little maintenance work was done.
This means a thorough check should be made now, ahead of our actual combining season.

The power unit of course should receive servicing such as re-gap-ping of plugs, replacement of defective wires, setting breaker points, flushing of radiator, re-filling crank case, checking air cleaner and connections, and cleaning fuel lines and carburetor jets with compressed air.

Next check the body and wheels of the machine itself. Your best guide is the instruction book supplied with your machine. Clean and pack all wheel bearings with grade grease. Where the bearing is adjustable it should be tightened to allow free, but snug rotation.
The frame should be thoroughly inspected, loose bolts tightened and worn bolts or rivets replaced. Truss rods and braces should be in place and tightened to maintain alignment of the various parts.

Check the feeder roller, paying particular attention to whether it is stretched, with the chain riding up on the sprockets. Closing the hook on each link by hammering can compensate for some wear.

In checking the cylinder, note whether it is possible to reverse the cylinder bars. If they are appreciably worn such a reversal may make replacement unnecessary. If one bar requires replacement, the one directly opposite should also be replaced to maintain balance.

Straw walkers, sieves and grain pans should be thoroughly inspected for soundness, and also for proper hanger or bearing adjustment.

Check slip clutches, chains and belts to see that they are all in good working order — replacement of a defective part now is much cheaper than during the combine season. A heavy crop is in prospect. Time spent now in getting your combine in A-1 shape will pay big dividends.

A GOOD POLICY

Constructive salesmanship recognizes that there must be at least two beneficiaries to every sale: the buyer and the seller. It is not ethical, by today's selling code, to sell to a person anything that he can use to advantage, any more than it would be to sell goods under false pretense as to their quality.

The average customer is not an expert in the thing he is buying.
He doesn't know nearly as much about it as the salesman does. This lays upon the salesman an obligation to protect the customer, and to give him, if possible, something better than he would, according to the strict letter of the contract, expect to receive.

Salesmen, sales managers and firms which pursue such a policy will find that they are making their businesses financially better.

The success of a business, in all but a small proportion of cases, is based on repeat sales: the honest value (plus value if possible) given in the original sale; the sincerity of the salesman in thinking of the customer's interests; the integrity of the firm in seeing that the salesman's promises and pledges are lived up to; and the follow-through to make sure that best use is being made of the goods.

NOTES FROM D.A.

HUGH McPHAIL

The following information comes to us from our director:

Re: Stinkweed Flavor in Beef
The packers' representatives have asked us to draw the above matter to your attention. It appears that some animals are being treated at the plants which carry this flavor and are unsuitable for human consumption except for small amounts in garlic sausage.

It is believed that this flavor arises from the feeding on grains containing appreciable amounts of stink weed seed, and in some cases from cattle pasturing on the green weed. It is believed that it does not take a large amount of the weed to produce this result, and further that it can be removed from the live animal by ten days' feeding stinkweed-free feed. It can sometimes be detected from the breath and manure of the cattle, though if they are removed from the cause, it will disappear from the breath before it disappears from the meat.

NOTHING IS WASTED IN THE WISE FAMILY GARDEN

Mrs. Wise keeps and eagle eye on her garden. Not a morsel of the good food stuff there is allowed to waste. This is partly because of good planning before the seed was planted. Mrs. Wise has kept a garden record for years and knows how much of each vegetable her family will eat — fresh, frozen, canned or stored. Seasons vary, however, and some years the yield is better than others. Because of the abundant moisture this year there is an extra amount of good eating in many gardens.

Do not let those extra peas go to waste because your family have had enough peas. How about cooking some with a sprig of mint to give an unusual flavor for a change.
For another time add a bit of summer savory, or basil. And please, please! — not peas and carrots all the time. They do make an excellent color and flavor combination, but we can get too much even of good things. Try mixing small onions, cauliflower or whole kernel corn with the peas for a change.
Combine your carrots with green beans or broccoli, or serve a mound of greens surrounded by carrots.
There are lots of different vegetable combinations that are good.
Just use your imagination, being careful of flavor and color combinations.

Beets don't combine with other vegetables, but if well drained they are attractive served around a pile of green or white vegetables.
To improve the flavor when cooking beets, try adding one-quarter teaspoon of whole mixed spices to the cooking water. Do use the beet greens too. Even the big leaves are juicy and good this summer. Cook until just tender crisp then chop them and add a sweet sour sauce.
The recipe for this is given in the bulletin Vegetables Make the Home Plate as Sweet-Sour Spinach.

For this and other recipes, as well as general directions for cooking vegetables obtain this bulletin from your District Home Economist or from the Home Economics Division, Extension Service, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Several high school students have made arrangements to stay in the College for the winter months. We are glad to accommodate them.

President D. Taylor is finishing a tour of the United Missionary Churches of Alberta this week. He is bringing a quantity of vegetables for canning and pickling this week.
Ladies who are interested in helping preserve these please contact Mrs. Habermehl at the College.

Clean! Clean! Clean! That is the order of the day at the College.
What with extending the president's apartment, painting and re-arranging rooms, those in charge are busy indeed. You may be able to spare evening or two if you are a carpenter or painter — or even part of a day, so that the necessary work may be completed by the time school opens. Some have been helping and we do appreciate it so much.

Things are happening in the school kitchen. Several friends have assisted financially. The walls are painted beautifully, but we do need cupboards built in and really good linoleum on the floor.
Why not visit the kitchen and see for yourself?

Miss Gladys Eby returned on Saturday from a three-week vacation in Washington. She has been visiting at her sister's home, Mrs. W. R.
Whittaker of Snohomish, Wash., and her father, who is now in his 97th year. Miss Eby has taken up her new duties as secretary-treasurer of the College.

Mrs. Earl Archer is busily engaged with her duties as dean-housekeeper. Under her capable administration the buildings are taking on an air of cleanliness and preparation for school opening.
Mrs. Archer will always appreciate volunteer assistance.

Mr. Charles Matson, who has been working at the school during the summer months, has left to continue his high school studies in Red Deer. He expects to complete his work this winter.

We appreciate all the people have done for the College this summer.
Eggs have been brought to us and have been carefully preserved for winter use. This fall we know that many people are expecting to bring vegetables for the winter, and let us say again, we would find it very difficult to carry on this important work of religious education without the faithful help of those who so willingly help to supply these material needs.

O.S.A. Notes

Olds School of Agriculture and Home Economics

"All the garden crops on the O.S.A. grounds are producing above average yields this season," says M. W. Malton, supervisor of the grounds staff at the Olds School of Agriculture. Sugar Prince and Golden Rocket, both hybrid varieties of corn, are expected to do very well chiefly because of early maturity.

The orchard is somewhat spotty this year; some trees are yielding heavily while others bear no fruit, as a result of winter frost damage.
Sylvia, Alexis, Olga, Trail and Rothenberg No. 8 varieties in crab-apples are all good; Transcendent and Ixysop are only fair; Rescue, which is usually good, is poor this year. Patters greening apple trees are producing a very heavy crop but the apple crop generally is poor.

Most of the flower beds have responded to the good growing season. Dawn Glow and Pine Gleam are two varieties of gladioli that are doing well. Perennial Phlox has created much beauty this season.

Weather conditions have favored the growth of lawn grasses: Creeping Red Fescue, Kentucky Blue Grass, Red Top. Shrubs have required considerable care; there is much evidence of winter damage by mice.

The greenhouse has given early shelter for the bedding-out plants: cabbage, tomatoes and flowering plants.

Mr. Malton, who is also in charge of poultry, states that this year's crop of pullets is outstanding. "The 200 Barred Rocks are 'very even' and, at 5½ months, are laying 50 per cent," he states. "The pullets were housed in their winter living quarters on August 20. A few each of Light Sussex, White Rocks, New Hampshires and White Leghorns are raised for classroom work."

MENU MAGIC . . .

Some women may roll on the floor to rid themselves of surplus weight. Others count their calories.
The latter group will be interested in the booklet "Your Food and Your Figure," issued by the Ontario agriculture department. But they may get a shock from the calory chart of fancy foods.

A chocolate malted milk shake runs 500 calories; one piece of pie 300-400 calories; one serving of strawberry shortcake 400; one piece of chocolate layer cake 350; one chocolate bar 275 and one doughnut — just one — 125 calories.

SCHOOL BELLS AGAIN

The average schoolboy may not feel too jubilant about going back to the classroom next month, but to many Canadian businessmen, the ringing of the school bell is sweet music, second only to December's jingle bells.

With over three million young Canadians scheduled to join the school desk parade — that's around a million more than in the last war year — back-to-school business is expected to reach new highs.

Some estimates put the back-to-school business pie to be carved up at $11 millions. An estimated $75 millions would go on outfitting youngsters across the country, the rest on their tools.

The average annual cost per pupil of texts and supplies is about $7 for elementary grades, $19 for grade IX, $21 for grade XI and $26 in grade XII.

The estimated cost of outfitting a boy with a sports coat, slacks, shirt, tie, shoes, socks and underwear goes up with age as follows: six-10 years $37, 11-16 years $44, 17-20 years $73.

IDLENESS NO CURE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Compelling workers to be idle for a greater part of the week results only in the sharing of idleness.

Unemployment caused by the unwillingness of producers of goods and services to exchange the results of their labor at prices other workers at home and abroad can afford to pay.

The idea that unemployment can be cured by everyone doing less work has led to widespread unemployment, which has been called depression.

Unemployment is the hard way of learning that the willingness and ability of other people to buy determines prices, wages and the extent of employment.

There is no over-production of needed goods in world trade today.
There is a widespread, menacing unwillingness to exchange labor in goods and services at world prices.
Voluntary unemployment could snowball into depression.

Canadian women over the age of 15 used an average of 8.4 pairs of full-fashioned hosiery during 1950.
